resilience, and achievements of women. The well-curated activities not only recognized the efforts of women but also created a warm and inclusive atmosphere, making it a truly memorable and meaningful occasion.

Bridging Theory with Practice: IIBS PGDM Students' Industrial Visit to Cochin Port

At the International Institute of Business Studies (IIBS), Bengaluru, we prioritize real-world exposure to shape future business leaders. As part of this commitment, our PGDM students recently visited Cochin Port, including the Container Freight Station and Ernakulam Wharf, gaining valuable insights into port operations, global trade, and supply chain logistics. The visit provided firsthand exposure to freight coordination, customs procedures, advanced container handling, and the critical role of ports in global supply chains.

We express our gratitude to the Cochin Port Authority for facilitating this insightful experience and to our leadership—Dr. Kethan Manyam, PGDM Principal; Dr. Jaggaiah Tripuraneni, Director - Academics; and faculty coordinators Dr. B. Charith and Shrinidhi V.S.—for their support in bridging classroom learning with industry practices. This transformative experience has equipped our students with practical knowledge to contribute meaningfully to the evolving fields of logistics, supply chain management, and global business.
